MISPLACED POETRY
 Passionate Admirer (at the charity hall)—Euphemis, before you came into my life I lived in a desert.
 Euphemis (not half as passionately)—I can quite believe it.
 Passionate Admirer—Really! How do you deduce that?
 Euphemis—Because you dance like a camel.
 And, funny thing, that night he went home with the hump!

MONROE SCHOOL TO STAGE BIG PROGRAM FRIDAY AFTERNOON
 Plans are being perfected by the teachers and pupils of Monroe school for one of the most interesting days in the history of the school. Committees have been appointed to provide for the comfort and entertainment of the large number of visitors expected on that occasion.
 There is to be a general reception of guests, with registration. This latter feature is to take the form of a contest, a prize being offered the room which succeeds in securing the longest guest list. Each room will have its own guest book in which will be inscribed the names of all visitors having a special interest in that particular room. Those having no special interest will be asked to register in a separate book.
 The program will begin promptly at 2 p. m. Friday, March 5, and will consist of physical exercise demonstrations in which more than 900 children will participate. Special features will be a wand drill, a folk dance and competitive games.
 Every one interested in the school life of Phoenix is urged to be among the guests. Refreshments will be served.

GLENDALÉ PREDICTS BIG LETTUCE CROP
 GLENDALÉ, March 5.—Although Glendale, last season, shipped 38 per cent more lettuce than it did in 1918, this season's crop will be more than 100 per cent heavier than was the 1919 crop, according to information gathered by the Glendale Commercial club.
 Up to Thursday midnight, Glendale had shipped a total of 96 carloads of lettuce, most of the crop going to eastern markets. In addition, hundreds of crates were sent out by express to Arizona, Texas and New Mexico points.
 Unless unfavorable weather conditions should develop, there will be, according to the estimates of those in a position to gauge the crop, a total of at least 125 carloads of lettuce sent out from Glendale before the last of the crop is cleaned up. This is a much greater quantity than any other district of the valley will produce this season.
 In fact, since the production of lettuce reached the commercial stage, Glendale has led the valley in number of carloads grown, and this season's estimated crop of 125 carloads is but a gratifying indication of the suitability of the famous "Glendale loess" soil as a garden truck soil.
 As soon as the last of the lettuce is out of the way, the land used for this crop will be plowed and the seed bed prepared for cantaloupes, the lettuce growers of this district, for the most part, getting the two crops from the same land each season.

Produce
 Car of White Globe onions, a car of Diamond potatoes, a car of bananas and shipments of peeled shrimp and lentils from old Mexico were among the arrivals on the local produce market yesterday.
 Summer squash is now arriving on the market in more plentiful quantities. Asparagus is also arriving in good amounts and is of fine quality. Local green peas are now coming in.
